* The LMC will use the information provided to keep you informed of LMC activities, to send any purchased LMC merchandise to you, and to internally review membership data to analyse membership trends. The LMC will not pass on any details supplied to any third parties. Should your membership cease at some future point, the LMC will delete your address and telephone contact data – your email contact information will continue to be used until unsubscribed, or it is no longer valid. If 'Business' is your preferred email address, then your personal email address will also initially be stored to be used for LMC communications. As with all LMC communications, you have the option to unsubscribe at any point. Information on your age range, and how you heard about the LMC, help the LMC review membership trends to aid future new membership – however, if you would prefer not to detail this information, then by all means leave these sections blank.
